

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could impose a disproportionate burden on customers who make few interstate calls.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. Low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!

Many people who can't afford to use their wireless phones in place of landline phones carry them for safety and security. They should not be put in danger of losing these benefits so that big businesses can pay less. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,
